12. Administration. N/A

13. Special Equipment. One (1) Jeep with Xenon light at all blocking positions.

14. Operational Analysis. The presence of an Ontos in blocking positions is very detrimental to the morale of the VC, which force the VC to adapt evasive methods therefore enabling the infantry units to close in and destroy the enemy. However it is felt that to use the Ontos in a static position is not the most preferable method of employment because it places a vast limitation on its role as a direct fire weapon. No mechanical difficulties of any type were encountered through Operation "ARIZONA".

15. Recommendations. It was experienced from prior knowledges that the terrain in the operational area of Operation "ARIZONA" was highly trafficable to the Ontos. It is highly and strongly recommended that during this dry season and in an area that is highly trafficable to the Ontos that instead of a static employment, the Ontos be given its secondary mission of giving direct fire support of the infantry units.
